No State Registration Found for Fund Drive

Representatives of the state government told the Press-Record yesterday they have been unable to find any records showing registration of a fund drive currently in progress in the Quad-Cities.

The campaign is for a boy who needs surgery. Details of how funds are to be allocated have been withheld by the promoters.

Registration apparently is required, according to a review of the 1963 Illinois law on solicitation of funds for charitable purposes.

The drive would be exempt from registration if all fund-raising functions were "carried on by persons who are unpaid, directly or indirectly, for such services." However, Earle Trigg, who is directing the drive, has told the Press-

Erroneous Statements By Drive's Solicitors

Erroneous statements are confusing many Quad-Cityans as a fund drive continues on a large scale here, Earle Trigg is directing the fund campaign.

A series of erroneous statements includes the comment by a drive solicitor this week that the campaign is sponsored by "The American Legion." Actually, Legion Post 133 voted Feb. 1 against serving as sponsor.

Initial solicitation calls in late January had related that the purpose of the drive was explained in "an article in the Press-Record." Actually, as this newspaper pointed out Jan. 29, there had been no such article.

Later telephone calls to the public, said the Press-Record had "retracted" assertions it made Jan. 29 in a report

$300 Million Area Valuation; GC, Venice Township Decrease

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

Locally assessed property values in Granite City Township for the 1972 tax year — against which tax bills will be extended for collection this year — show a decline of $4,182,900 below those of last year, James Barton, Madison County supervisor of assessments, reported today.

At the same time, Barton announced that local property values increased in Nameoki and Chouteau Townships, but decreased in Venice Township.

The overall local property assessment for all four townships of the Quad-City area amounts to $300,185,000, or $722,560 less than the area's total valuation last year, according to figures released by Barton.

While the Granite City assessment drop totaled $4,182,900, the amount partially was offset by a $2,180,100 valuation increase in Chouteau Township and a $1,970,070 boost in assessments of Nameoki Township.

The Venice Township values declined from $58,461,975 for the 1971 year to a new figure of $57,722,010, or a drop of $889,765 in the 1972 valuation.

The figures announced by Barton encompass assessments fixed by township assessors and adjusted by the county supervisor of assessments, but do not include changes that may be approved by the Board of Review. Barton said such changes are expected to be minor.

The local assessments will be increased later by the addition of railroad property values and capital stock assessments which are set by the Illinois State Department of Revenue.

New local assessments for Granite City Township total $171,412,435, compared to total assessments of $175,593,335 for the 1971 tax year, Barton's figures showed.

More than $3 million of the Granite City assessment decrease occurred in evaluation of personal property. The new valuation for personal property in this township is fixed at $88,516,095, compared with $71,757,973 a year ago.

The new Granite City assessment for lands amounting to $12,890,889 is a drop from last year's $16,096,860, while the new assessments for lots (im-

Plan Levee Ruling Appeal

By MARION BARTOSIAK
Press-Record Staff Writer

A state law dividing the old East Side Levee and Sanitary District into separate Madison and St. Clair Sanitary Districts was ruled unconstitutional by Circuit Judge Robert L. Gagen Tuesday in the St. Clair County Circuit Court.

Madison district trustees plan to take the issue to the Illinois Supreme Court, according to comments made following the ruling.

The case had been filed by three St. Clair District trustees after then Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie signed legislation Dec. 22 which separated the old district along the county line.

Judge Gagen said the state law is vague, indefinite and uncertain in its application and violates the due process clause of the U. S. and Illinois Constitutions.

Madison District trustee and a defendant in the suit, said, "I think the decision leaves us with no alternative. Our people will appeal all the way to the Supreme Court if necessary."

State Rep. Horace L. Calvo of Granite City, who sponsored the legislation, said, "I assume business and civic leaders will want to appeal directly to the Supreme Court if possible."

"I haven't found a single taxpayer in Madison County who wants to continue under the current structure," he said.

In his ruling, Gagen said the act purports to divide the responsibilities for the operation of the old district in such a manner as the new districts might agree.

He said the act is silent on guidelines to be followed if the new districts failed to agree on apportionment of the costs or responsibility for operation of facilities in one district which serve the other.

The judge said this would impair obligations under contracts between the levee district and municipalities in the two counties.

Judge Gagen asserted the act imposes tax obligations on citizens of both counties which would be assessed and collected by persons other than the elected corporate authorities contemplated by the 1907 act under which the levee district was organized.

In his opinion, "The legislature has attempted to change the old district in such a manner as the new districts might agree.

Treatment Size of 23 Million Gallons Urged

The Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission has recommended to Illinois Environmental Protection Agency officials that Granite City's secondary sewer treatment plant be built at a capacity designed to handle 23 million gallons per day, City Council members were informed Monday night.

The recommendations were contained in a letter to Warren P. Miller, manager of the planning section of the Division of Water Pollution Control of the Illinois EPA under the signature of the Theodore Miksell, executive director of SIMAPC.

EPA officials in recent months have questioned the 23 MGD design of the city's proposed new secondary plant, saying it was too large, particularly because industrial use of the city's sewage treatment system has been reduced since plans for the new plant first were prepared.

The city's primary plant has a capacity of 20 million gallons daily.

The letter said:

As stated in the "Water Quality Management Study Area, Madison County, Illinois," a 23.0 MGD (million gallon per day) treatment plant represented the most cost-effective means to treat the existing and projected sewage in the Granite City service area.

The recommended sizing of this treatment facility was determined not only by its ability to adequately treat present and projected domestic needs, but also to treat existing and projected industrial loadings within the projected service area.

Furthermore, the capacity to solve the system's combined sewer overflow problem was evaluated. Based upon an average daily flow of 12.0 MGD, the existing 20.0 MGD primary facility was operating at 60% of its design use. (It should be noted, however, that while the facility was operating at only 60% of its hydraulic design PE, it was operating, at times, at a plant attached PE of 233,000 based on suspended solids.)

Since the projected 1990 service area of this plant would require a 6.5 MGD capacity for domestic loadings and 16.5 MGD for industrial loadings, a 23.0 MGD plant would be required.

The combined system overflow problem would be handled by the construction of a holding basin with a capacity of ten times the plant's design flow. The construction of a holding basin ($3 million) is deemed to be more cost-effective than the $6 million (1967 figure) that would be needed to reline the system.

Drug Center Is Proposed

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

Drug abuse education is among the primary areas of concern of the St. Elizabeth Committee, a group formed to Hospital-Quad-Cities' Action isolate health needs of the community and initiate programs to meet specific problems.

And the group indicates that it intends to match its "action" name in its performance.

Committee members include representatives from health, welfare-service agencies.

Current plans call for distribution of drug abuse information and literature throughout the community.

The Rev. Louis Oetting, pastor of Hope Lutheran Church, serves as chairman. Monthly meetings are held at the hospital.

Further Delay on Dobrey

An agreement between Granite City and the Illinois Division of Waterways assuring city-state cooperation in developing emergency drainage relief for the Dobrey Slough area was rejected by the City Council Monday night.

The proposed agreement, written and sent to the city by the waterways division, was referred to City Attorney Leon Scroggins for further conferences with the state officials concerning two provisions which the city asked be included in the agreement, but which were omitted from the proposal submitted Monday night.

Although the state plans to build and finance a drainage line from a point south of Dobrey Slough, extending south across Pontoon Road and then along Pontoon Road to Amos Avenue, an agreement with the city is necessary to permit the state to tie the line into the city's sewer system.

The agreement, prepared by the state and offered to the council Monday night, was placed on the council floor by Roy Poulos, chairman of the Ordinance Committee. Poulos began reading the agreement for council discussion, but was interrupted by Alderman Gerald Parmley of the Sixth Ward after he had read only a few paragraphs of the proposal.

Parmley, who was holding a copy of the proposed agreement, told Poulos, "There's no point in your reading all that because this agreement isn't what we asked. You're just wasting time."

Parmley said he had checked through the agreement and that it failed to include a "hold harmless" clause that would protect the city against liability from flood damages in the event Dobrey Slough drainage contributed to flooding in the city area, or a provision that would permit the city street superintendent to shut off pumps at Nameoki ditch if Dobrey drainage threatened to overflow the canal outlet.

"Those are the two primary clauses we asked and was the basis for our going along with the state in this agreement," he said.

Tully A. Heubner, director of buildings and grounds, said that the topsoil at the North track site will have to be removed and dirt which will compact better will have to be brought in to form the base.

Heubner also recommended that specifications for the North track include curbing to assist drainage.

Full Merit System Likely for Staff, With Howlett Given Authority over Personnel

By KEN WATSON
Copley News Service
Springfield—A long-smoldering and sensitive issue is virtually certain to be resolved before the 1973 legislative session is over.

Control of jobs in the secretary of state's office also likely to be determined once and for all are two related and significant issues. These are:

—Shall the secretary's office be a bulwark of political patronage, be converted virtually entirely to the merit system?

—Shall the secretary of state be granted sole authority over all his employees, with present powers and authorities related to the governor's personnel director being rescinded?

The early-bird view from the Statehouse Dome is that all of these goals will be achieved.

This reasoning is based on the fact that the legislative program to bring them about is being developed by new Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett.

The former Democratic state auditor is not only one of the most popular figures in state government, but he is a shrewd diplomat as well as politician. Howlett has already prepared the groundwork that will probably provide for him all the Republican as well as Democratic votes that he will need for legislative passage of his proposals.

Despite all the pulling and hauling over the years, the patronage part of the package is likely to be the easiest resolved.

Although still important to both parties, the secretary of state job bonanza is far from what is once was about 15 or 20 years ago. Of a total of about 4,000 employees, only about 500 are now considered as strictly patronage.

These are hardly enough to seriously affect any election and are probably as much a bother as benefit.

Howlett's Republican predecessor, John W. Lewis, despite charges leveled against about "locking-in" Republicans, actually made substantial progress toward replacing patronage jobs with those governed by the personnel code and merit system.

Howlett wants to continue and expand this trend. Legislators, who are often plagued by job requests from constituents, will welcome further moves to take them off the patronage hook.

Policy executives, of course, would be exempted.

Howlett anticipates no trouble in administering a merit personnel system for the office or filling future job openings. He plans to ask the legislature to establish a bipartisan board which would oversee the secretary of state's personnel operation.

Republican House Speaker W. Robert Blair, among other GOP leaders, has already taken a favorable stand to the Howlett plans. The real fight will be over personnel administration.

Howlett feels strongly that an elected state official should have absolute authority over all his personnel.

Yet, with the secretary's employees being subject to the overall state personnel system, Howlett complains that he cannot transfer a person from Chicago to Springfield without the approval of the director of personnel.

He also notes that this divided authority can play hob with budget planning.

There have been instances in the past where a secretary has budgeted limited pay increases for employees, only to see his budget wrecked when the state personnel director established higher increases for everyone.

Howlett's primary hope is that he will be able to accomplish what he wants legislatively without going directly to Walker.

Relations between the two men are fairly good right now, and whether Walker would oppose relinquishing any personnel authority remains to be seen.

Two New Positions Created At GC High School/North

New positions for a school nurse and a school social worker were created for the new Granite City High School/North by the State Board of Education Monday night.

The positions may be filled by persons currently employed in the district and additional personnel may not be required. R. T. Jones, administrative assistant, told the board members.

A proposal from St. Louis University, St. Louis, was accepted in which college students in social work courses will practice under the guidance of school social workers.

The board accepted with regrets the retirement of Lowden Jordan, a special education teacher at the high school. The retirement will be effective at the end of the school year.

A leave of absence from Feb. 16 through March 30 was granted to Mary Wiseman, a lower primary teacher at Parkview School.

Negotiating teams for 1973 to represent the board in union negotiations were selected and approved. L. Monroe Worthen and Donald W. Stucke, board members, and Harold E. Gildner, Frank L. Kraus, Gerald Brown and Fred Nott were selected to the committee to deal with negotiations with certified personnel.

The committee to negotiate with non-certified personnel includes Harold Davis and Arthur L. Metcalf, board members, and Hillmer, Raymond T. Jones and Tully A. Heubner.

Permitin was granted to Miss Barbara L. Kerch, physical education director to attend the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation Convention in Minneapolis, Minn., April 12-17. She is a member of the governing board of the group. Necessary expenses for her trip also were granted.

Board members were invited to attend a dinner with legislators Thursday, Feb. 22, at Lewis and Clark Restaurant in St. Louis, and a legislative hearing on property tax relief Feb. 14 at Mount Vernon.

Kiwanis Plans Annual Sweetheart Dance

Final plans for the annual Sweetheart Dinner, Dance Monday evening at Charlie's Restaurant were completed by the Kiwanis Club at its meeting Monday night.

President Wilhelm Verschulz presided and named Marvin Barnes to serve as host for the event when the members and their wives or friends will be guests.

A new member, Bill Hayes, was introduced and welcomed. During the meeting, a lengthy discussion was held on the club's charitable program to help Quad-City youngsters who have been referred to the club by school principals or school nurses.

Throughout the year the Kiwanis Club provides eye examinations and eye glasses for school children, dental assistance and clothing for those in need. Al Jesse holds the committee which arranges for appointments and contributions.

The club also makes available to area residents wheel chairs and crutches at no rental fee. These items may be borrowed by contacting Roy Feder at 452-7147.

The Board of Higher Education has recommended an operating budget of $28,022,750 for Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1973.

The recommendation, which included several "earmarked" items, is an increase of 5.1% over the current budget. However, Dr. John S. Rendleman, SIUE president, said the recommendation represents a reduction of $973,800 for existing university programs.

The BHE reduced the current year's operating budget base of $28,022,750 by $973,800, which it identified as a relocation of resources. Funding increases added to the revised base totaled $2,328,334, making a budget gain of $1,354,534.

Budgets of all state institutions were cut by "reallocation of resources."

"These were based in part on enrollment declines. But even those declines were cut, although the reductions on those campuses were a smaller percentage."

"This budget recommendation is one we can live with, but if it is adopted by the legislature it will mean that SIUE will have less flexibility of funding than it has had this year," Dr. Rendleman said.

"If the trend continues it will mean that the BHE will be assuming an even greater role in deciding what specific programs SIUE should offer to meet the needs of its constituency."

"There is a real question whether this type of decision can best be made by people in Chicago and Springfield, or by our local university administration and the SIU Board of Trustees."

The university's board of trustees originally requested $33,713,818 in operating funds for SIUE for the coming year.

VENICE SEEKING WAIVER ON U. S. IMPACT RULING

Mayor John E. Lee reported Tuesday night to the Venice City Council that statements, pictures and reports concerning the relocation of Broadway and construction of approaches from the Broadway underpass to McKinley Bridge have been submitted to federal officials in Washington, D.C.

A delay in the project resulted when the U.S. Department of Transportation said final approval of the plans was prohibited by section four (f) of the Department of Transportation Act which concerns adverse environmental effects upon the land.

Since a small part of the northwest corner of Lee Park is to be used, the (f) declaration applied to the city, was said.

The council met Tuesday night in the Venice Public Library. The council sessions will be held during the remodeling of the city hall. New council offices are being built on the second floor of the city hall.

Mayor Lee told the council he had no objection to the idea of taking to obtain approval of the Broadway project, but that he has written to U.S. Senators Adlai Stevenson and Charles Percy, and Congressman Melvin Price to intercede with the Department of Transportation and request a waiver of the "f" declaration.

The council asked bids for 10 a.m. Feb. 16 for maintenance of city streets with motor fuel tank plans. Plans also are being made to resurface Homestead Street from Second Street to Broadway.

The McKinley Bridge report for a January listed, a total of 217,725 vehicle crossings during the month, an average of 7,254 per day.

The council approved expenditure of $339.38 for repairs to a Street Department truck.

52% Pay Raise for Mayor Voted Down

Granite City aldermen voted Monday night to increase the salaries of the township supervisor and assessor, but at the same time rejected an ordinance raising the salary of the mayor by 52%.

The salary increases for the two township officials were approved by the council while convened as the Town Board just prior to the regular City Council session.

The action increases the salary of the supervisor from $6,000 annually to $7,200, a boost of $100 per month, while the assessor's salary is raised from the present $13,000 to $15,000 per year. The assessor also receives a $100 month by expense allowance.

In later action by the council, the aldermen decided 6 to 6 on a roll call vote on a motion to approve an ordinance that would raise the mayor's salary from the present $13,200 to $20,000 per year, an increase of 52%.

The ordinance providing the mayor's salary increase also provided salary raises for the city treasurer and city clerk $15,000 per year.

Council members made no objection to the increases for the treasurer and clerk, but opposed the proposed $20,000 salary for the mayor on grounds that the $6,800 annual increase was too high.

Others noted, however, that the salary is fixed for the four-year term of the mayor with no provisions for providing interim boosts over the four years.

One of Few Survivors Recalls Nazi Cruelty

How a group of 5,900 Polish Jews was mistreated and killed by Nazis in World War II was related to Granite City Rotarians on Tuesday.

Wolf, one of the 11 survivors. Although his weight fell from 160 to 66 pounds, his back was ached, and he came within seconds of being executed six times, the local contractor said the prisoners were able to cooperate with each other, such as supporting those next to them who fainted during forced marches.

Usually fed only bread in the morning, grass and a piece of beef at night, those being oppressed were forced to exercise, march to and from distant work sites and to perform heavy manual labor, Wolf related.

Introduced by Donald Adams, Wolf said the still painful memories of his 1939-45 confinement are being told as a warning against future barbarism and the pitfalls of complacency.

President Richard West presided and Librarian Robert Black was accepted as a new Rotarian.

Asbestos linings are not necessary as lighting batons which were to be nearby have been moved further from the curtains, Heubner said.

Due to a higher than anticipated enrollment at North, the board increased the number of boys lockers to be installed, adding $363 to the furnishing cost. Originally, orders for 60 full length lockers and 60 double lockers were anticipated for the new school. It was decided to make all of the lockers double units.

It has been projected that about 2,068 boys will be enrolled in high school next year of which about 1,033 will attend the new school. Original estimates were for 1,700 boys in the district of which 850 would attend North.

A study to improve the report cards is to continue.

"This change cannot be said to have been conferred by the citizens of the district or to have been with their consent," William B. Starnes, attorney for the three St. Clair trustees who sued to avoid the division, said the present status remains hazy because of an order issued by the Madison County Circuit Court that restricts spending of old district funds.

Circuit Judge William Beatty had ruled in favor of requests of two Madison District trustees, Ebersold and Russell Robinson, who favor the split.

"It is a valid order," Starnes said, adding that "two must wait" until it is overturned."

He said he plans to file a request for "an extraordinary writ of prohibition" with the Supreme Court asking that Beatty's decision be set aside.

Judge Beatty's order permits the old district to spend only those funds necessary to continue operations. It potentially could remain in effect until a final determination of the issue is made by the Supreme Court.

Posts in Venice

A ticket of candidates for election to seven Venice city offices in the April 17 municipal elections—six of them incumbents—was filed yesterday with City Clerk William "Mike" Ebersold.

The only incumbent official not seeking re-election on the ticket, filed as the Citizen's Improvement Party, is Bernard Anderson, city treasurer.

Anderson is retiring from the treasurer's post in which he has served 24 years.

Seeking election to the treasurer's post is Henry Baucum, now alderman of the Fourth Ward.

The ticket was filed yesterday amid reports that an opposition ticket of candidates, most of them from North Venice, is being organized under the leadership of Willie Walker, a member of the Madison School Board. No filings by that ticket had been reported today.

The Citizen's Improvement Party slate is headed by Dr. John E. Lee as a candidate for re-election as mayor. Ebersold is a candidate for re-election as clerk and Baucum seeks the treasurer's office on the same ticket.

Candidates for aldermen are: E. Harry Buente, First Ward; Hank A. Svezia, Second Ward; and John "Dickie" Ervin, Third Ward, all incumbents, and Tyronne Echols, Fourth Ward. Echols seeks the aldermanic post vacated by Baucum to run for treasurer.

it "the in thing" not to "mess with drugs."

The movement is national in scope and has such well-known personalities as Bill Cosby, Steve Allen and Jack Webb affiliated with the program.

The hospital staff member said the objectives of the committee are to identify and examine the health needs of the community, to determine priorities, and to rank priorities in terms of value to the overall community, scope and cost of projects and probability of successful implementation.

Furthermore, Mrs. Hausmann explained, the group is designed to develop programs by which the community can strive to accomplish its priorities and eliminate health needs on a systematic basis, and to work toward the allocation of whatever resources are necessary for program implementation.

An equal importance is the group's stated policy of working closely with local, state and federal programs as well as voluntary agencies, and reviewing and evaluating on an annual basis the direction and record of committee-initiated program, the social service director noted.

The 21-member Action Committee consists of representatives from the Visiting Nurse Association, public nurse nurses, high school counselors from the Madison, Venice and Granite City school districts, mental health associations, Quad-City Ministerial Alliance, Catholic Charities, Protestant Welfare, Quad-City Church Women United, Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission, St. Elizabeth Hospital Lay Advisory Board, Coordinated Youth Services, St. Elizabeth Hospital medical staff, Tri-County Medical Society, Madison County Dental Society, community representatives, and other St. Elizabeth Hospital representatives from the administration, nursing service, and non-management employees.

Although primarily geared to examine health needs in the community to be met with services provided outside the hospital, the committee on occasion may become involved with programs already furnished at St. Elizabeth, Mrs. Hausmann said.

At the latest meeting of the Action Committee, Mrs. Martha Guenther, executive director of the Family Planning Clinic in Granite City, discussed operation of the agency and its role in the community.

Treatment

evaluation, however, the closing of the Corn Sweeteners Plant, a major contributor to the system, has made necessary a reevaluation of the recommended plant siting.

If the Corn Sweeteners Plant were to remain closed for the duration of the planning-period (1980), which is in our opinion unlikely, a 20.0 MGD secondary plant would still be needed to adequately treat the projected population and industrial loadings.

The industrial projections developed for this service area were, for the most part, based upon the introduction of new industries into the area and not merely expansion of existing industry.

The area immediately north and west of Granite City represents possibly the best industrial development potential in the three-county region. As such, careful consideration must be given to provide the needed sewage treatment.

Although the commission feels that only a 20.0 MGD secondary treatment facility can be positively justified at this time, it is our recommendation that the originally-proposed 23.0 MGD facility be constructed for the following reasons:

(1) In order to produce a set of final plans and specifications for a smaller facility, approximately five months would be required and an additional $70,000 would have to be expended for engineering services.

(2) The reduction of size of the treatment facility by 15% (23 MGD to 20 MGD) would result in only 7.4% cost savings ($10.5 million to $10.0 million).

(3) To re-bid the project would result in an estimated 5% increase for labor and materials.

(4) An estimated seven-month delay in construction would result if the plant siting were changed (five months for re-design and two months for re-bidding). This time delay would be contrary to current pollution abatement programs.

(5) A 20 MGD facility might still be overloaded during periods of high BOD or solids flows.

(6) Finally, care must be taken to provide adequate and cost-effective sewage treatment for all of the Granite City service area for the duration of the planning period. Since a major item of this treatment need is and will continue to be industrial, the potential for increased industrial production must be seriously considered.

As mentioned previously, the area tributary to the Granite City plant has perhaps the highest potential for industrial growth and expansion in the region.

The provision of cost-effective sewage treatment, being a prime concern in industrial site decisions, is a definite necessity if this area is to realize its potential.

Based upon our analysis of the sewage treatment needs of the area, this commission reaffirms its recommendation that the proposed secondary plant for Granite City be sized at 23.0 MGD.

Venice Woman Foils Confidence Game

Two women attempting a "pigeon drop" confidence game were foiled by Lena Leatherman, 1033 Third St., Venice, at 5 p.m. Tuesday.

The women approached Mrs. Leatherman at Fourth Street and Broadway in Venice and displayed an envelope which they said they had found. They said it contained $4,000. The women said if Mrs. Leatherman would go to the bank and get them some money, they would give her the envelope and the money.

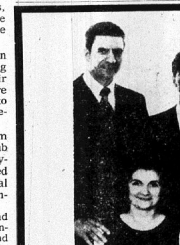

Mrs. Leatherman said she told them that if they had found money, they should take it to the bank or the police station. The two women entered their car and left.

Three Arrested As Suspects in Two Burglaries

Three persons were arrested after police saw five men leaving the front door leading to the second floor quarters of attorney Dale Hyle and Holloway's Sporting Goods Store, 1903A Edison Ave., at 7:55 p.m. Tuesday.

Charged with two counts of burglary were Robert E. Shumate, 24, and Wavie Shumate, 18, both of 2047 Alton Ave., Madison, and William R. Middendorf, 19, of St. Louis.

The three entered a plug of innocent before Associate Judge Merlin Hiscott who set bonds at $10,000 each. They were taken to the Madison County Jail in lieu of bond pending preliminary hearings to be set in Edwardsville.

Entry was gained first to the law office by forcing the door on the east side of the hall. Several drawers were opened but it was unknown if anything was missing.

A large book case was moved from a door and paneling was removed to gain entry to the sporting goods shop. A clock on the book case had been disconnected at 5:50 p.m.

Rifles and shotguns were thrown about the store, according to the report, and nine handguns were missing.

When police reached the rear hallway of the building and heard another officer radio a message that five persons were coming out of the front door. The first officer ran down the front steps and saw three men running around the corner.

He reported that he called for the closest one to halt and was obeyed. He said it was Middendorf who related that two trips to the building had been made and the guns were at the Shumate home.

Robert Shumate was arrested behind the Libson Shop which is in the first floor of the building, and Wavie Shumate was arrested several minutes later by Venice police in the 1900 block of Madison Avenue, Madison.

Venice police had heard a radio report of the burglary and a description of the men.

According to the report Granite City police officers, accompanied by Madison police and a sheriff's deputy, went to the Benefit Ball Saturday To Aid Recovery Team

Patrons of a Valentine Ball Saturday evening at the Venice-Madison American Legion Hall, 740 Broadway, Venice, will help purchase an air compressor for use of the Bubblemasters Underwater Recovery Team (BURT), a group which operates without charge as a community service.

Tickets, costing $6 per person, include free food, beverage and set-ups and may be obtained at the door at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, or from members of the Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club, sponsors of the benefit event.

About 300 are expected to attend the third annual ball, according to Dee Adams, club president. Music for dancing will be furnished by the Mona Band.

Proceeds will be used to help finance the purchase of a new air compressor, expected to cost about $5,000, Adams said.

The compressor currently in use is several years old and unable to provide air fills as speedily as necessary under specific circumstances or when emergency conditions exist.

Re-designated under the name "BURT" earlier this month, the local underwater recovery squad operates closely with civil defense authorities, state, county and local police departments and the state's attorney's office for whom evidence has been recovered from the Chain of Rocks Canal, Mississippi River and nearby lakes and drainage canals.

In addition to assisting police departments in the four local communities, the team has worked in conjunction with Collinsville and Edwardsville law

Shumate home where Mrs. Robert Shumate signed a consent-to-search form.

The report said officers found a .30-30 rifle and a .243 caliber rifle in the living room and a .38 caliber revolver under a mattress in a rear bedroom. The weapons were taken to the Granite City police station and tagged.

The officers also went to the home of Schumate's mother, who also signed a consent to search form, and no guns were found there, the report continued.

Police are continuing to investigate.

Rotary Governor Visits Madison

"One of the great strengths in Rotary is the fellowship gained at meetings, and this club certainly demonstrates fellowship," Kenneth C. Bulkeley, governor of Rotary District 646, told the Madison club at its meeting Wednesday in the Madison Recreation Center.

"I remember my visit here when I was Governor during my 1936-37 term, and Harry A. Thebaud was president and Bill Winter was the club secretary. I am most happy to learn both men are still active Rotarians."

The Rotary Governor spoke briefly on the achievements of Rotary International and how Rotary has increased in size from five men, to 15,000 clubs now meeting weekly throughout the free world.

Rotary President Jerry Maeras reminded the members that a ladies night party will be held Feb. 14 at the Lewis and Clark restaurant in East Alton.

Wayne Scannell reported that arrangements for the benefit dinner Apr. 14 at the Venice-Madison American Legion hall are underway and at the next regular meeting of the club he will appoint the necessary committees.

In honor of the Governor's visit Miss Alicia Hendrickson, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Stevens at the piano, sang several selections.

Paul Chilton Cited For Work Expertise

Paul Chilton, 19 Jeanette Drive, has been given an official commendation by Colonel H. K. Tompkins for his expertise toward the successful implementation of the Commodity Command Standard System.

The award was made Monday at a special ceremony in St. Louis. Chilton is a Supply Systems Analyst in the U. S. Army Automated Logistics Management Systems Agency.

AUTO TIRES FLATTENED

Harold Covins, 3315 Washburn Ave., reported at 1:40 a.m. Wednesday that as he was preparing to take his wife to the hospital during the evening he found all of the tires flattened on his two autos at his home.

Trigg defended the procedures by saying sponsoring groups traditionally cannot be trusted to assure the financial success of musical shows he promotes.

"They mean well, but they get busy with other things and leave the tickets unsold on the back seat of their cars. They then say they're sorry, but it's me who has to mortgage my house or go into debt."

Rejecting this approach, he said he intends to control all of the funds and expenses, with reports going only to the family.

Trigg mentioned various cost factors utilized in the internal administration of the project but Press-Record newsmen were unable to apply them in a way that they gained understanding of the spending and profit outlook.

proved property) is $38,878,160, an increase from the 1971 value of $37,713,800.

Railroad property assessed by the local assessor remains unchanged from last year at $27,300.

In Nameoki Township, Barton reported, the new local property value totals $42,145,170, up from $40,175,100 last year. This year's assessments include $8,289,200 in personal property, $11,745,800 in lands values, $21,906,970 in lots and $202,200 in locally assessed railroad property.

Chouteau Township, which has the largest increase of any township in the Quad-City area, has a new total assessment of $28,555,250, up from last year's $26,675,150.

Personal property valuations in Chouteau total $8,993,220; lands, $9,418,765; lots, $12,294,34, and locally assessed railroad property, $148,030.

Barton said that assessments for all of Madison County total $985,844,045, up $18,666,680 from last year's local valuation of $967,177,365.

The increase in countywide assessments will assure a total county valuation that will exceed the $1 billion mark this year for the first time in the county's history.

Railroad assessments of more than $2 million will be certified by the state to the county clerk's office, will bring the total county valuation to approximately $1,014,000,000.

Cougars to Play Sunday at Kiel

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's varsity basketball team will play at its second "home" court at 1 p.m. Sunday when it meets the Hurons of Eastern Michigan University at Kiel Auditorium.

It will be the first game of a collegiate twin-bill, with St. Louis University playing Florida Southern University in the nightcap.

It was decided this season, as an experiment, to ascertain whether students and fans would back the move to play two SIUE games at Kiel. If successful, more Cougar basketball games may be slated there in the St. Louis-owned gym until a multi-purpose auditorium is built on the SIUE campus.

Ticket prices have been announced by Bob Guelker, the SIUE athletic director. SIUE students will be able to buy regular $2 tickets for $1 by showing their identification cards. Front balcony tickets are available to SIUE students for their friends for $2.50.

The tickets are available at Guelker's office in the basement of the Lovejoy Library on campus.

Last season, with Eastern Michigan University still having the services of their All-American, George Gervin, the Hurons blasted the Cougars 123-88. The Hurons went on to take second place in the NCAA national tournament at Evansville, Ind.

This year the Cougars are zooming along with a 12-7 record, while Eastern Michigan has dropped to 6-12.

Also paid were travel allowances of $246.

The teams concentrated on such specific problems as tardiness, fighting, disobedient student behavior and physical hygiene. Dr. Newsome cited "a very rapid and a very large improvement in the very wide range of things they worked on." He said improvements from 75% to 95% had been noted in studies of the program his institute had conducted.

Newsome, who also was associated with the office of the state superintendent of public instruction, said Illinois now plans to expand the program state-wide. "The entire state program is being modeled 90% after this project," he said.

Vasi Eitumoff, program coordinator, who also was present, was praised by Dr. Newsome for his work in the three years the team concept has been used here.

The Board of Education granted its permission for continuation of the program. It also approved the sharing of information on the program with other school districts if those districts will reimburse any costs involved.

The program which is funded jointly by the school districts, the Madison County Mental Health (708) Board and the state, cost $35,000 to operate last year.

The board also heard an evaluation report on the district's occupational education program, the result of a visit by an inspection team from the State Board for Vocational Education and Rehabilitation.

The report recommended the establishment of a vocational education club for students, preparation of a state plan by occupational division, involving school personnel, consultants and residents in curriculum development, conducting a feasibility study for future programs, encouraging membership in professional organizations, promoting and expanding vocational adult education and holding service workshops for teachers.

Tea Sunday at Calvary Baptist

An enrollment tea, set for 3 p.m. Sunday at Calvary Baptist Church, will promote activities planned for the following week, designated as "Focus Week for the Baptist Missionary Union."

Plans for the tea were completed Tuesday evening by a Baptist women's group, meeting at the church. Theme of the week-long observance will be "Each One Bring One, Cultivate One."

Sixteen members attended the planning session, opened with prayer by Mrs. Lou Slayter. Mrs. Lois Bradford, director, was in charge and reports were submitted by chairmen and officers. Names on the prayer calendar were read.

Mrs. Bradford announced a book study for all church members to be conducted at 7 p.m. Feb. 28, entitled "No Man Goes Alone," and a "Week of Prayer for Home Missions" was arranged for March 4 to March 11. The Annie Armstrong Fund has a goal of $400, the director reported.

Mrs. Slayter described a new creative activity program for women, to be known as "Show and Tell." Mrs. Fran Williams and Mrs. Delphine Kinder will serve as project leaders, holding meetings at the church every second and fourth Tuesday at 1 p.m., she said.

Mrs. Lola Miller, prayer chairman, gave the closing meditation.

Benefit Dance for Joseph Gonzalez Fund

A benefit dance to aid the Joseph Gonzalez Scholarship Fund will take place Friday, starting at 8 p.m., at the Venice-Madison American Legion Hall on Broadway in Venice.

The public is invited to attend and tickets, costing $15.00 each, may be obtained at the Venice-Madison American Legion Hall on Broadway in Venice.

The fund was established by the Mexican Honorary Commission of Granite City in memory of Joseph Gonzalez, a Granite City High School teacher, who died of injuries sustained in an automobile accident in June 1970.

A goal of $1,000 is being sought to award two $500 scholarship grants to Granite City High School students, Steve Ortiz, commission president and chairman of the dance, said this week.

Commission members in charge of arranging the public dance, include Mrs. Alvenette Metcalf, co-chairman, and Jose Becerra, Robert Robles, Jesse Ybarra, Robert and Yo Cowan, A. L. "Pete" Metcalf, Donald Valencia, Al Delay, Terry Valencia, Otilio Valencia Jr., Ruben Mendoza, Robert Grieve, Elva Ortiz, Shirley Sanders and Matilda Martinez.

Ortiz said that music for dancing will be furnished by the Wayne Scannell Band. A variety of Mexican food will be prepared by Mrs. Matilda Martinez, a sister of the late school teacher, and members of the Gonzalez family, the officer noted.

Plans for the third annual benefit event were finalized at a meeting held earlier this week at the Jaycee Clubhouse on Poplar Street.

JOSEPH GONZALEZ, a Granite City High School teacher, who died in June 1970 from injuries sustained in an automobile accident. A scholarship fund established in his memory will benefit from a public dance set Friday at Venice-Madison American Legion.

In other business, Manager Bob Young and Coach Donald Goldschmidt of the Senior Midget Division soccer team, sponsored by the Mexican Honorary Commission, presented a first place trophy won by the squad while playing in the Metro East Soccer League.

Action on a request for support by the Levee and Sanitary District of a proposed Dobby Slough drainage project was delayed by St. Clair County levee trustees in East St. Louis Wednesday.

The trustees said they would not support the project until they meet with John H. Gillou, Board of Levee and Sanitary District, to discuss the project. The request for support was made by Mrs. Helen Hawkins, a leader of a citizens' group in the Dobby Slough area which is urging immediate relief for drainage problems there.

TALK BY DICK GREGORY. The comedian and social reformer spoke to students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for nearly three hours. A crowd of 400 heard his speech on social problems.

Fight Poverty, Gregory Urges

"The whole world's gone crazy," Dick Gregory told 400 people at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

In the first half-hour of a three-hour talk, sponsored by the SIUE University Center Board, the comedian unfolded his feelings on what he called the insane qualities of the world today. "Nixon's talking about rebuilding North Vietnam—a country he considers to be our enemy—when he can't even bind the wounds of America," he said.

"Look at Clifford Irving. He ripped off McGraw-Hill and Life Magazine in the same day," he continued. "Someone asked Gregory if he would go on another fast if war broke out tomorrow. 'I would go on another fast if Rhodes attacked Harlem,' he said. In a more serious mood, he told the audience that America must get rid of all the conditions that create a 'Vietnam type atmosphere.' 'I'm not talking about a cease-fire... I'm talking about peace,' Gregory said. 'He said young people are turning the country around. You (youth) told the Pentagon that never again will old men decide when a young man's going to die.' Gregory said young people have changed the ball game, but your (youth's) job's not over... it's just beginning. 'We must rid this country of poverty, hunger and all the other social ills, and change the thought process of America,' Gregory said. 'And we haven't got much time...'

7-Month Repair of 2 Coke Batteries to Begin Monday

Granite City Steel Company will produce greater quantities of better grade coke in less time as the result of major repairs to be performed on two of the company's three coke oven batteries, President H. M. Love announced this week.

The repairs, to take about seven months to complete, will begin Monday, Feb. 12.

They will principally entail the installation of new brickwork on the company's "A" and "B" coke batteries.

The repairs will be made piecemeal — on two or three ovens at a time — to minimize interference with coke production.

About 13,000 tons of new bricks will be used to rebuild the walls, tops and end flues on the 48-oven, "B" battery and the 27-unit "A" battery.

The "B" battery began operating in 1943, and the other in 1953.

The company's third battery, a 61-oven installation, went into service in 1961 and remains in good working order.

The three batteries have a design capacity to produce 640,000 tons of coke annually.

Love said the repairs will help sustain production and shipment levels that resulted in record highs for Granite City Steel in 1972.

He said increased production in the mill's blast furnaces was a major factor in that performance.

Blast furnaces, he explained, use coke as the fuel for reducing iron ore to iron. Coke is produced by heating bituminous coal in long, narrow ovens without enough air present for the coal to burn.

The Koppers Company of Pittsburgh, Pa., which specializes in steel mill engineering, is primary contractor on the repair project.

However, all of the subcontract work will be performed by local firms. Between 80 and 90 area tradespeople will be employed on the job.

In addition to production improvements, the coke oven repairs will produce environmental benefits, Love said.

The new brickwork will result in more tightly sealed ovens and oven doors, so that steam and dust is contained within the ovens.

The repairs will be finished just prior to the scheduled completion of the company's new $2,250,000 automatic coke oven coal charging system.

Considered to be the most advanced in the world in terms of air pollution control, the enclosed charging system is under construction now.

A subsidiary of National Steel Corporation, Granite City Steel is the largest steel producer in the St. Louis metropolitan area and this section of the Midwest.

Proficiency Exam Use Shows Upturn at SIUE

The use of proficiency examinations by students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is steadily increasing, according to T. Brooks Holder, assistant dean of the General Studies Division.

In the last year 731 students have taken proficiency examinations and 53% have made a passing grade. In a three-year period ending in February, only 1,433 students took proficiency tests, according to records compiled by the General Studies Division.

Proficiency tests are administered during the first two days of each academic quarter. Examinations are graded quickly so that successful students will be able to add courses as replacements for those in which they have passed proficiency examinations. Students who fail any proficiency examinations will be allowed to continue in class without prejudice to their grades.

Adequate departments teaching General Studies courses or other basic courses review each course to determine those courses suited for proficiency examinations.

Each faculty chairman notifies the dean of General Studies which courses will offer proficiency exams each quarter.

"Most departments are really putting a lot of effort into co-operating with the General Studies Division," Holder said.

A guide to proficiency examinations available has been compiled indicating the course number, department, times for taking examinations, places and special criteria that may be required for taking the test.

The guide is available in the General Studies office to provide campus advisors and students with basic information on access to the proficiency exam program.

"This is a liberal, specific and well-defined examination program, and we have developed quite an extensive number of courses that may be proficiencies by a student," Holder said.

"As the need for external or informal learning experiences increases, as in the case of the older students, veterans and three-year degree programs, we hope to continue to have a proficiency program to meet this need," Holder said.

Bills to Aid Elderly, Physically Disabled

State Rep. Arthur A. Telser (R-Chicago) has introduced a package of legislation which would "guarantee for the physically handicapped and elderly citizens a more functional and livable environment." The package affects the quality of life for a million Illinois citizens, he said.

Telser commented, "For too long we have been passive to the difficulties experienced by our handicapped and elderly citizens. It is time to stop being merely sensitive to their needs. In addition, we must provide affirmative measures in order to assure that these individuals will be provided an equal opportunity to work, live, socialize and engage in other social and occupational activities."

The legislative package deals with access to public buildings, transportation, employment and special auto licenses for the certified handicapped driver. Access to public buildings would be provided by amending an existing law by adding enforcement provisions. All building permit requests would be reviewed by the Department of General Services and enforced by restraining injunctions to stop construction by the attorney general's office if not accessible.

Transportation construction grants for developing "barrier free design" would be provided by the Department of Transportation. The bill would allow for development grants to government and non-government entities.

Employment practices for the handicapped would be provided, with enforcement covered by an amendment to the Fair Employment Act. It would provide that it is unfair to discriminate against an individual with respect to hiring, selection and training for apprenticeship because of physical or mental handicap.

Special license tags would provide parking privileges for certified handicapped drivers. Harold V. Hopkins Jr., executive director of the Governor's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped, indicated that the package of bills provides for "the continued leadership of Illinois as a state concerned about its elderly and handicapped citizens and doing something about it."

Howlett Urges Party to Unite Behind Governor

To strengthen the Democratic party, a formula for unity must be found at every level, Michael J. Howlett, Illinois secretary of state, said last night.

Howlett was the featured speaker at a dinner of the Edwardsville Township Democratic Club in the University Center on the local campus of Southern Illinois University.

"Here as in hundreds of other townships in Illinois, the Democratic party has just agreed upon a ticket of candidates for the April 6 elections," Howlett said.

"In the nominating process, your caucus had to make decisions between candidates for the offices so our party could go to the public with a ticket that can win and will administer the offices faithfully."

"So that the Democrats can make the best possible showing in April, differences of opinion must be reconciled now. The time for family arguments has ended. We must have only one program to offer the voters."

"As a successful state candidate, I am especially grateful for the margin of victory given to me in all 14 Edwardsville precincts."

"The same 14 precincts also carried for Gov. Dan Walker and Lt. Gov. Neil Hartigan."

"As your secretary of state, I will work with Gov. Walker, Lt. Gov. Hartigan, State Treasurer Alan Dixon and Sup. of Public Instruction Michael J. Bakalis to prove that a Democratic administration can best serve the people of Illinois."

"The Democratic officeholders in Illinois state government are all men of independent minds and strong convictions. So are the men and women who manage our party business in all sections of the state."

"But no one man or small group of men can shape or control the Democratic party. It is shaped and controlled by the collective thought and effort of all its members."

"At the national level, our party is now beginning to reorganize for the next contest. We can learn from the mistakes we made in 1972 and in 1968."

"In the 1972 nominating process we made reforms, intended to open up our party and encourage the widest possible participation. But in opening it, we also shut out some of our most experienced and respected political leaders."

"In the light of experience, we must have the useful reforms and correct those that didn't work out."

"The provision for election of the most possible primary delegates at the state convention is a good one. Let's keep that one."

"But in trying to insure adequate representation of minority groups in our national convention — a good idea — we should stay away from a quota system."

"We don't need a Jim Crow car in the Democratic train."

"Another rule we can do without is the rule to keep elected party officers from endorsing candidates for delegate to the national convention."

"It infringes on the right of free speech of every elected precinct committeeman, as well as every county and township party officer."

"The work before us is complex and involved, but we can handle it by working together, not against each other."

"The Democratic party is the oldest political party in the world, and the best. From the time of Thomas Jefferson, it has been committed to fair play, equal opportunity for everybody and the widest possible participation in government by the most people."

"As secretary of state, my first responsibility is to all the people of Illinois. I can serve my party best by serving the people first."

"But what progress we make in the future depends not only on officeholders but on party membership. It depends on you," Howlett concluded.

Holy Land Tour Planned in Fall

The Rev. Samuel Boda, pastor of St. John Lutheran Church, St. Clair and Dale avenues, is planning a tour of the Holy Land and Rome Oct. 22 to Oct. 31.

The 10-day tour is open to any Quad-City resident who is interested. Rev. Boda said. Information may be obtained by contacting Rev. Boda at 2017 St. Clair Ave., or by phone at 452-6127.

If enough interest is indicated by area residents Rev. Boda plans to lead a tour of this type every two years or even annually, he said.

Rev. and Mrs. Boda led a similar tour to the Holy Land two years ago, taking in Jerusalem and Corinth, Greece, at that time.

This fall's tour will include a visit to Bethlehem, the site of Christ Jesus' birthplace, a tour of Jerusalem, notably Calvary (Gordon's site) and the Garden Tomb, a motor launch crossing of the Sea of Galilee, and bus trips to many other cities associated with the earthly ministry of Jesus Christ, especially Nazareth, Capernaum, and Tiberias.

The return trip will feature a stop in Rome, where touring will include St. Peter's basilica, the Vatican Museums with the Sistine Chapel and Michelangelo's frescoes, the Borghese Gardens, and Spanish Square. Also on the itinerary are the Colosseum, the Catacombs of Santa Domitilla, St. Paul Outside the Walls, the Forum, Martine Prison, and Trevi Fountain. There also will be time for leisure touring and shopping.

The public is invited to attend, admission free. Sponsors of the program said that cake and coffee also will be served at the concert, one of a series of musical programs scheduled to be performed by the Happy Strings group.

Although no admission fee will be charged Sunday, it was reported that freewill donations will be sought from concert patrons to aid the ethnic music group to take part in the 7th Annual Tamburitz Festival in July at Hamilton, Ont., Canada.

More than 25 similar groups from the United States and Canada are expected to convene in Hamilton for the annual festival. The youthful members belong to the Junior Cultural Federation, sponsored by the Croatian Fraternal Union, headquartered in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Last summer, about 800 youngsters in 26 tamburitz groups assembled in the Edsel Ford Auditorium in Detroit, Mich., to perform in unison.

The Happy Strings Junior Tamms are directed by Ivan Lusick Jr., assisted by his wife, Grace, who supervises choreography.

Future appearances of the Happy Strings include performances at a March 3 dance at the Croatian Hall in Madison, where a corn beef and cabbage dinner will be served, and a concert Feb. 24 in Wood River.

GC Couple Marries in Ceremony at Hospital

Miss Sandy Justice and Stanley Hargrove exchanged wedding vows in Room 639 at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of Feb. 7.

The unusual setting was quickly arranged after the best man, Wesley Hargrove, a brother of the groom, was hospitalized and the couple decided to be married on the same date they had selected prior to his illness.

Performing the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Henry C. Crippen, pastor of the Word of Life Tabernacle.

Mrs. Barbara Hargrove, wife of the hospital patient, served as matron of honor.

Other guests attending the service were Mr. and Mrs. Howard McCann, Mrs. Richard Hargrove and Richard Smith, unit manager at St. Elizabeth Hospital, who also is a patient in Room 639.

The groom is a son of Mrs. Margaret McCann, 2419 State St., and the late Wesley Hargrove. He attended Granite City schools and is employed at Granite City Steel Co.

With very little advance notice, personnel in the St. Elizabeth Hospital dietary department elected to mark the happy occasion by providing a wedding cake and serving coffee after the ceremony.

Staff members also arranged an attractive table setting in the hospital room, using flowers and tall white tapers in golden candlesticks.

The newweds are making their home in Granite City.

Yugoslav Singers and Dancers Will Perform

The Singers and Dancers of Ljubljana will perform Tuesday, Feb. 13, at 8:15 p.m., in the Meridian Ballroom of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The public is invited, admission free.

The Yugoslavian performing ensembles include the France Marolt Dancers and Tone Tomasic Choir. They have performed in almost every country in Europe on stage, radio and television.

Members of the SIVE Concert Choral Choir touring Europe in 1971 were guests of the Tone Tomasic Choir in Ljubljana. Although the groups are touring the United States during February and March as two individually organized societies, they were founded by the same man, the late France Marolt, in 1948.

As early as 1926, Marolt had founded a men's folk-choir, which developed into the Academic Choir, one of the top mixed-choir groups performing in the United States. After the war, the group took the name Tone Tomasic in honor of a member of the original choir who had been killed in the war.

Carrying out the original aim of reproducing little-known, colorful Slovene popular dances in their most authentic form, the Slovene added the dances of all Yugoslavia and became acclaimed as one of the purest folklore and dance groups in Europe.

In its 20th anniversary, the group was awarded the Order of Brotherhood and Equality with the Silver Wreath by Yugoslav President Tito. The program of the mixed-voiced choir reflects a rich and long tradition of Yugoslav vocal history and covers the early national natural motifs by J. Dallis.

In its programs devoted to folk songs, the choir draws on a repertoire including more than 300 songs and dances.

At 8:30 p.m., the SIVE Concert Choral and the Tone Tomasic Choir will sing for each other in the University Center. After the war, the group took the name Tone Tomasic in honor of a member of the original choir who had been killed in the war.

State Lobbyists Said to Perform Needed Service

By GARY KOCH
Copley News Service

Springfield-Senators and representatives may grab all the headlines at the Illinois statehouse, but a third group also commands attention—the lobbyists.

Lobbyists, also known as special interest groups, pressure groups and legislative aides, are very much a part of legislative life in Springfield.

Various organizations and companies are represented by lobbyists. Currently, 170 lobbyists are registered and represent such diverse groups as banks, automobile manufacturers, chambers of commerce, schools, universities and medical societies.

Illinois requires interests groups or lobbyists to register with the secretary of state, who keeps a detailed account of their expenditures. Registration is done in Room 100 of the State Capitol, better known as the index division.

Through their various activities, lobbyists relate to legislators in three particular ways. First, they initiate legislation. Rep. Joseph Gibbs, R-Springfield, has pointed out that this initiation occurs usually in the form of amendments.

Secondly, lobbyists help create the issues and stimulate the resulting action. Robert Marlowe, lobbyist for the Illinois Railroad Association, explained it simply: "If our group is interested in a bill, we bring people in from the company explaining why we are for or against it."

Probably the greatest service a lobbyist performs is supplying information. Maurice Scott, director of the Illinois Taxpayers' Federation, sees the role of lobbyist as essential.

With 5,000 bills appearing during a session, we need people present who know about bills in certain sections," Scott asserted.

Lobbyist Marlowe gave similar sentiments.

"You have to have lobbyists," he explained. "Legislators get their information from them, so good lobbyists are essential to state government."

And do lobbyists fulfill that obligation? House Minority Leader Clyde L. Hoyle, D-Anaconda, believes they do, by and large.

"Lobbyists are a very intricate part of the legislative process," he explained. "Most members of the legislature listen to the testimony of lobbyists, so the lobbyist should ably represent the group he is retained by. To come to Springfield, he should be knowledgeable and appear before committees with the facts in depth."

Kirkpatrick Homes
Workshop Planned

A creative workshop for residents of Kirkpatrick Homes will begin Saturday in the Kirkpatrick recreation hall at 1 p.m.

The new program, open to all ages, will feature several types of craft work including candle-making, needlework, string art, painting and folk singing.

Greg Schmieg, former drug counselor at the first military care center in Pearl Harbor and now with Coordinated Youth Services, has enlisted the aid of Otis Lauberg, Patty Sontag and Betty Lundin to assist with the program.

Schmieg said, "The purpose of the creative workshop basically is to give the people a chance for self expression and a feeling of community involvement. I saw this type of program work very well in Hawaii and I feel certain we will have a program to interest all ages."

MAN STRUCK, KICKED

Kenneth Niederbach, Caseyville, reported at 2:40 a.m. Tuesday that as he was leaving an apartment at Kirkpatrick Homes, he was knocked to the ground and kicked by three or four men.

ID Cards Available

Saturday at GC Rink

Plasticized identification cards will be made available to residents of the Granite City Park District between 9:30 and 11:30 a.m. Saturday at Wilson Park ice rink.

The session will be the final opportunity to obtain ID cards before the start of the summer season. Harold Brown, park superintendent, said today.

The ID cards cost 60 cents each and are valid for a three-year period. Those seeking a card must show proof of residency within the park district. Brown advised. He suggested those applying bring a receipted utility bill to establish an address.

District residents may take part in park-sponsored programs at reduced rates if the person holds an official ID card, Brown explained.

St. Clair Judge Finds New Levee Low Vague and Disruptive;
Careful Reading Shows It Is Clear and Could Function Well

A change of venue was sought in the belief that St. Clair County might not be the ideal place for judicial review of a December 1972 law.

The law created new levee and sanitary districts in separate Madison County and St. Clair County areas. The same territory had since 1907 combined the Quad-Cities and East St. Louis into an East Side Levee District which had become a pillar of St. Clair politics through its many hiring, buying and bidding abuses.

The venue change was denied, and now the new law has been declared unconstitutional and void by a St. Clair County circuit judge.

In view of the circumstances noted, Tuesday's ruling was not unexpected. But it is disappointing in that it runs counter to the expressed will of the people and of the legislative and executive branches of the state government.

Should the decision be appealed to the Illinois Supreme Court, which includes a former St. Clair County appellate judge and is dominated by his party?

The answer undoubtedly is "Yes," for two reasons. This is a decision the court has left open. And the St. Clair judge's misrepresentation and misunderstanding of relatively clear language may well be overturned by the high court in the interest of justice rather than politics.

We hope the Illinois attorney general also sees fit to seek a reversal of the court's decision to defend the action and intent of the General Assembly and Governor.

The Supreme Court certainly should not prohibit Madison County Circuit Judge William Beatty's order until the high court has had a chance to study and rule on the whole issue of whether the two new districts can go into operation.

The Beatty order limits the scope of operations by the old County Board no longer exists under the December law but which has been kept artificially alive by the St. Clair court.

Judge Beatty's action prevents spending excesses and other steps which might damage the effectiveness of the new Madison Levee and Sanitary District once it begins full functioning.

The FORUM

ATHLETIC GROUP NEEDS
NEW ATTITUDE, STRUCTURE

To the Editor:

As I close out my officiating career, which has spanned 20 years, I feel that it is important to say a few things which may be of some use in the future, to all concerned.

I must accept some responsibility for recent events. I feel it stems from previously acquired frustrations. For one, I had long ago lost faith in the support and guidance tendered the officiating fraternity by the Illinois High School Association.

It has become a common topic of discussion, and one of the reasons for this is the existence of the concern and backing previously enjoyed by this group from Chicago.

During the past five to six years, several eviscerating occurrences involving youth sports by schools as well as individuals have, for all practical purposes, gone unpunished.

The district track meet which resulted in a near riot between Lincoln of East St. Louis and Alton.

The Madison-Mater Dei football game in which a St. Clair County player was badly accosted and the guilty athlete continued to participate, "due to conflicting reports."

And the Edwardsville Sectional of last March.

There have been varied instances where unpleasant confrontations between coaches and officials have been reported, with the officials immediately placed on the defensive by the IHSA.

Therefore, many instances which normally would have been reported have not been treated as such. The attitude now is, "Why worry? It only causes us trouble."

We have degenerated into a class which is more interested to accept the responsibility that accompanies game officiating, but now must also bear the brunt of all wild allegations and accusations and danger to personal safety.

Whereas policies have always been a part of any large organization such as the IHSA is, it has reached epidemic proportions in the recent past.

There are reports of member officials verbally requesting high-level tournament assignments beyond the control of the coaching fraternity.

Another curious situation shows certain officials who have officiated a maximum of nine or ten games in Illinois, and high school level, receiving top state final assignments over those who have continually dedicated themselves to officiating at the high school level.

On the other hand, officials must accept their right to play politics.

In my case, and a few others, years ago, I was given every opportunity to advance. Some of us gave up time and money to conduct "community clinics" conceived so as to foster a better understanding of rules and the intricacy of their application.

In Southern Illinois, the area with which I am most familiar, there are only a handful of first-rate officials.

God help the program upon the departure of the likes of Fred Gibson, Bob Erelis and Jim Bollinger. Here, also rises the ugly head of greed. The attitude seems to be based on the "heek with the other guy. I'll take care of myself."

Anyone who thinks that a high school referee makes money is badly mistaken. When you leave home at 6 p.m., and turn at midnight for the grand sum of $25 and deduct car expenses and income tax, you are barely receiving the minimum wage guaranteed by law.

Al Willis, Mill Sprunger and Tom Fredericks knew this. And, in my opinion, they were the tough, trying job it is, backed their officials until proven wrong.

They were keenly aware of who could, and who couldn't go under terrific pressure. This is longer is the case.

The IHSA no longer will take a positive stand on questions which are of a controversial nature. The inner workings have been cast toward a "pass the buck" approach.

In my opinion, and the opinion of others, the organization which is in trouble... a trouble of a serious character because nobody is talking about it.

It is a malignancy which is destroying the desires and at-

As to the ruling of unconstitutionality, it was predictable that if such a decision was made it would find fault with specific facets of the new law. These particular provisions can be evaluated by the Supreme Court, but from a layman's viewpoint they do not appear defective.

An example of the judge's criticism of the provision under which board vacancies are to be filled by the governor, under recommendations of the state senator and three state representatives in each area.

He sees this as an attempt to change the board composition from persons elected by taxpayers to persons favored with the governor. But it should be kept in mind that the law does retain the election process; the appointment procedure is to be utilized only when vacancies develop in mid-term.

A more positive way to look at it would be to note that appointments avoid costly special elections, and also save time and money for the state, at full strength most of the time, regardless of deaths or resignations.

The judge found that the new law is vague and difficult to apply. There admittedly are a few long and complicated sentences, but such verbiage seemed necessary to prevent the use of the law to follow the concept of general rather than special legislation.

In other words, the new law applies to all Illinois levee districts instead of just the East Side Levee District by name. But its effect is focused on this metropolitan area by including the stipulation that it applies to those levees which follow the Mississippi River; there are no others.

Again, specific pumping facilities are not named but are pinpointed by language describing the location and the specific area in which they are located. The law is clearly established by definition, such as the one with the largest territory which drains to that pumping station.

And careful reading of the new law leads us to differ with the judge's contention that there would be "impaired obligations" under sewage treatment contracts entered into between the old district and certain municipalities. Such contracts are unimpaired with the new St. Clair District.

Utility Infielder Fenwick came to the Cardinals in a trade with the Houston Astros that was completed at the winter meetings in Hawaii.

In 1972, Fenwick played second and short and third for the Astros and hit .180 in 36 games.

Mick Kelleher played fast feet, quick hands and accurate throwing arm in 23 games at shortstop with the Cardinals in September of last year.

He fielded at a .984 pace in the brief trial, but hit only .159. If he improves his hitting, he could play a great deal in the big leagues.

In 1972 with Tulsa, Kelleher was the Cardinals' "conflict."

Civilian dead—about 1,000,000. Military dead—1,156,190.

I hope that the readers of this column will consider for a moment, the thought of the over two million lives (without my even mentioning the 148 billion dollars that the U.S. has squandered) that were lost to gain the uncertain and infirm ceasefire now exists in Vietnam.

I ask you to imagine for a moment the vast, enormous destruction caused by our bombs in both North and South Vietnam. I beg you not to forget the many atrocities committed by our ground forces, only a few of which became public.

I could continue, but I think my point has been made. If Vietnam is, in fact, an honorable peace, then I would consider its backers honorable men.

I would prefer to respond more fully to the letter but I find it difficult to follow the rambling from one unrelated subject to another.

I wish, in closing, to state that any thought that I state that I feel less than a patriotic American is not only completely unfounded, but also rather comical.

Dal Maxvill, Granite City's gift to world champion baseball teams, may never be fully replaced by the St. Louis Cardinals in terms of his expertise at shortstop.

But he has been followed by a series of contenders for the position, since he now is a member of the Oakland Athletics.

Young shortstops Ray Busse and Dwayne Anderson will be in competition during spring training, although at this time it appears that Busse may have the inside track.

Busse, 24, was obtained from the Houston Astros with Bob Fenwick for catcher Skip Jutze and shortstop Milt Ramirez. Shoulder problems limited his playing time last year at Oklahoma City. But, as recently as 1971, he hit .271 for the Houston Astros in 13 home runs and 54 runs batted-in.

Dwayne Anderson was obtained from the Oakland A's in a trade with the Houston Astros that was completed at the winter meetings in Hawaii.

The 25-year-old Chicagoan, with boundless enthusiasm and eagerness, became one of the most popular members of the team after coming to the Cardinals in an opening day trade.

His constant companion in 1972 was a large stuffed dog, Wayne Grams, named "Mighty Iggy Young."

The pet is typical of his mirthful approach to the game and is an aid in keeping the club "loose."

Skip had a single knock in 118 innings before his injury, including 13 against the Mets on June 26, and threw only 83 pitches in a 1-0 loss to the Dodgers on June 3.

He combines his fast ball with a sharp breaking curve. When he controls both, he can be unusually effective.

With Diego Segui, sinker-ball pitcher who appeared in 118 games with the Cardinals in 1968 and had a 4-2 record that year before moving to the Cincinnati Reds in the Vada Pinson trade.

In his first season with the Cardinals, he set a major league record by appearing in 90 games. He was named National League Fireman of the Year in 1969 and was named to the Twins in the winter of 1971 for leftfielder Tom Hall.

After two full seasons in the majors, Reggie Cleveland — along with Gibson, Spinks and Rick Monday — was named the Cardinals' regular starting pitcher.

Last year, the 24-year-old Cleveland right-hander improved on his 71 victory total with 13 wins and lowered his ERA to 3.94 as well. He started 35 games in 1972, pitched 213 and 133 innings, pitched 213 and 133 innings, pitched 213 and 133 innings.

For Wise, 1972 was a one-year wonder. He started 35 games in 1972, pitched 213 and 133 innings, pitched 213 and 133 innings.

Playing the "H" game, a reversal of just four of the one-run losses would have placed him in the 20-win circle, a figure he will be shooting for in 1973.

As it was, his 16-16 record and 3.11 ERA were good enough to place him second to Gibson in many pitching categories. And he led the staff in starts (35) and was second in wins, complete games and innings pitched.

pair torn ligaments in his right knee came at a time when the pitcher was in the midst of a fast ball led the staff in earned run average and strikeouts. The Cardinals had just completed a surge of 22 wins in 28 games, and it is felt that it was no coincidence that the Cardinal record from that point on was 37-47.

Return Needed for Refund Regardless of Income

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q: My son earned nearly $2,000 last year. Does he have to file a Federal income tax return?

A: If your son is single, you are not claiming him as a dependent and he did not have self-employment earnings of $400 or more, he does not have to file a return because his gross income is less than $300.

However, if you or someone else could claim your son as a dependent and he had income from dividends, interest or other types of unearned income, he must file a return if his gross income was at least $750.

He must also file a return if he had net self-employment earnings of $400 or more.

Of course, he should file a return to claim any refund due him for income tax withheld.

Q: I have all my tax records. Can I file without my Form W-2?

A: No. A withholding statement, Form W-2, for each job held during 1972 must be attached to your return. Failure to do so delayed the refunds of many taxpayers last year.

Q: I plan to go to a commercial tax preparer to have my 1972 return filled out. Is he responsible for any errors on the return?

A: No. Each taxpayer is responsible for the accuracy of his Federal income tax return, no matter who fills it out.

If you do use the services of a tax preparer this year, be sure he signs your return and enters on the form his social security number or employer identification number.

Q: What do you mean by "adjusted gross income"?

A: This is the total income that appears on line 17 of your Form 1040.

Adjusted gross income is arrived at by subtracting business expenses and certain employee expenses, such as sick pay, moving expenses, etc. from your gross income.

For most taxpayers, however, adjusted gross income is equivalent to their total income. This year, your Form 1040 instructions contain a glossary of frequently used tax terms to make it easier for you to fill out your return.

Q: Are medical insurance premiums deductible in full?

A: If you itemize deductions, you may deduct in full one-half of the amount you paid for medical insurance, up to $150.

The balance of your premiums is added to your other medical expenses in excess of three percent of your adjusted gross income is deductible.

For more information, write your Internal Revenue district office and ask for a free copy of IRS Publication 502, "Deductions for Medical and Dental Expenses."

Some Farmers to Pay Self-Employment Tax

Illinois farmers are subject to self-employment tax for 1972 if their farm income is $400 or more. Leon C. Green, district director of Internal Revenue for Central and Southern Illinois, advised today.

The self-employment tax rate is 7.5% with a maximum of $75 and is in addition to income tax.

A self-employed farmer is one who operates his own business or farm. A farmer also is considered self-employed if he employs others to work his farm, even though he does not live on it himself.

A farmer must file a Federal income tax return and pay the self-employment tax due if his net earnings from self-employment are $400 or more, even if his gross income is less than that amount.

The self-employment tax for 1972 applies to a maximum of $9,000. But this figure is reduced by any wages from which Social Security taxes were withheld.

A special optional provision in the law enables farmers to acquire Social Security credits even if they have a loss after deducting expenses.

"Farm" as used in the Federal tax law relating to Social Security and self-employment taxes, includes stock, dairy, poultry, fruit, fur-bearing animals, and insect farms, and also plantations, ranches, and nurseries.

"Farmer's Tax Guide," IRS Publication 225, furnishes more detailed information on this subject. The booklet is available without charge from your county agricultural agent or by writing Forms, P.O. Box 1468, Springfield, Ill. 62705.

Registration for Draft Continues Despite Freeze

Activity at the Madison County Selective Service headquarters in Edwardsville has all but come to a halt since Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird's statement ending inductions into the military services.

A spokeswoman for the county office, which handles draft activities for the Quad-City, Alton and Edwardsville Selective Service boards, said that only the registering of 18-year-olds is continuing and all induction and physical examination calls have been stopped.

She said because of the announcement, all young men born before 1953 now are being classified 1-H, a holding classification for young men not eligible for draft or physical calls but who could be reclassified 1-A if necessary.

The office has completed destruction of the draft files of all men 26 years of age or older.

"We have shredded them and burned them," the spokeswoman said. The exceptions are medical specialists whose files are kept active until they reach age of 35, she explained.

"We probably will not keep all our personnel because the work load has decreased," she said.

Registration of 18-year-olds is continuing and it was emphasized that only the induction authority of Selective Service has been stopped and that the law requiring registration and allowing physical examinations remains in effect.

Each young man in the county still must register within 30 days after his 18th birthday, she said.

It was indicated that young men who misunderstood Laird's statement and did not register within the allowed time after their birthdays because they thought the draft had ended should register immediately.

Penalties are being waived because of the confusion the statement caused, she said.

Of young men born in 1953, those with lottery numbers from one to 100 will remain in the 1-A classification (eligible for examination or induction calls) while those with lottery numbers over 100 will remain 1-H.

Nearly all young men born in 1953 with lottery numbers between one and 70 have been examined by the draft and are eligible for induction immediately if induction authority is resumed, she said. The group with numbers between 71 and 100 then would be called for physical examinations, she indicated.

The law giving the Selective Service System the authority to induct is due to expire June 30.

Non-Use of Seat Belts Raises Legal Question

Should a motorist be required by law to use seat belts for his own safety?

According to the Illinois State Bar Association, no state now makes it mandatory for motorists to use seat belts even though the law may require, as it does in Illinois, that automobiles be equipped with seat belts.

Under Illinois law, all 1961 or later model passenger cars licensed in the state must be equipped with two sets of safety seat belts in the front seat. A number of states, notably Georgia, are expected to consider making seat belt wearing mandatory this year.

The Georgia effort is spurred by a finding that out of 1,500 highway fatalities during 1972, only two per cent of the victims were buckled into their seats.

One official estimates that 80% of those killed would have survived the accidents if they had been wearing seat belts.

At least seven states—Ohio, Michigan, New York, New Jersey, West Virginia, Rhode Island and Connecticut—recently have turned down bills that would have required motorists to buckle up whether they liked doing so or not.

In Illinois, at least one survey indicates that motorists would not like the idea.

Motorists responding to a questionnaire were overwhelmingly—3,283 to 149—against any legal requirement that they use their seat belts.

Some objected that for short shopping trips it should not be necessary to use seat belts, and that in some cases use of a belt might contribute to an injury rather than prevent one.

Other questions over compulsory seat belt use have to do with enforcement problems and the constitutional right of a motorist to wear a lap or shoulder belt or not as he sees fit, since only his own safety is at stake.

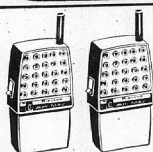

Statistics on seat-belt wearing show that only about a third of motorists wear seat belts at any time; an even smaller number wear their belts if around town driving and only four per cent, it is estimated, use shoulder belts.

To encourage motorists to buckle up and stay that way, many 1974 cars will come equipped with an ignition system that will require seat belts to be fastened before the car can be started.

Drug Charges Filed,
Auto Forced Off Road
Police were called to the 2700 block of Harvey Place after an auto was forced off of the road at 11:30 p.m. Monday and arrested Carl E. Merchant, 27, of 3402 Kirkpatrick Homes, on charges of possession of hypodermic syringes and needles and disorderly conduct. The items were found in his auto, police said.

A report made to police by Dave John, 4060 Sara St., said Merchant ran him off the road.

stopped and started acting strangely after leaving his auto. John then left and found a telephone at a nearby restaurant, he said.

Parking Ticket Boxes

Tested Downtown

Six experimental parking ticket collection boxes are being tested in downtown Granite City.

Planned as a public convenience, the red boxes are attached to meter posts and parking violators receiving tickets need only place the fine money in a ticket envelope, seal it and drop it in a slot.

If successful following a 90-day trial period, the city will consider purchasing more of the boxes.

Discuss Reduced Education 'Title' Funds on March 12

By JOAN MURARO
Copy News Service

Springfield—Illinois stands to lose a sizeable chunk of more than $78 million in federal funds for special education purposes if Congress complies with President Nixon's request that most funds for "Title" programs be either drastically curtailed or entirely eliminated.

To reduce the possible impact on Illinois education somewhat, a series of regional public meetings will be held to evaluate how successful each of the different programs has been, and what its termination would mean to administrators, students and parents.

Each person desiring to testify will be asked to submit a copy of his complete remarks, since unedited copies of the transcripts will go not only to federal authorities but to congressmen from each Illinois district from which testimony is heard.

The sponsors of the meetings are helping particularly to get testimony from students and parents on the benefits of the programs.

The programs include courses for the educationally deprived, the handicapped, exceptional and bilingual students, as well as adult education, programs on drug abuse, the environment, library services, educational broadcasting facilities and programs lumped together under "innovative and exemplary."

Also involved will be funds used to strengthen offices of state superintendents of public instruction, which in Illinois presently comes to $800,000 annually.

The office of Supt. Michael J. Bakalis had reportedly been aiming for a third consecutive operating budget decrease.

But loss of the federal $800,000 grant would presumably send the state office's budget upward instead.

The Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, under which the funds are allocated, expires this spring, though it does contain a provision for an automatic one-year extension if Congress fails to take action on it.

Plans for conferences in Washington to evaluate the programs have tentatively been set, after which Congress will presumably continue the programs, amend them somewhat or eliminate them in toto.

Not all totals are immediately available, but Illinois presently receives $7.2 million for Title III projects (innovative and exemplary); $4.8 million for Title II (library services); $85 million for Title I (educationally deprived), as well as the $800,000 for Title V (funds to strengthen local superintendents' offices) and a half million for bilingual education.

The last grant puts Illinois last on the per capita rolls for grants for bilingual instruction, though the state ranks fifth in the number of Spanish-speaking students.

Illinois gets something under $3 per student for such instruction, compared to states like Pennsylvania which receive over $40, and Louisiana which receives more than $30 for each bilingual pupil.

All public meetings will be held from 9 a.m. until 8 p.m. or whenever everyone has been heard.

Meetings have been scheduled for Feb. 21 at Rockford; Feb. 26 at Carbondale; Feb. 28, Peoria; March 5, Chicago; March 8, Elmhurst; March 12, East St. Louis; March 14, Champaign; March 21, Moline, Rock Island; March 28, Springfield, and March 29, Quincy.

Sponsoring the meetings will be the Illinois Adult Education

Association, Illinois Administrators of Special Education, the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, Illinois Association of School Business Officers, Illinois Association of School Boards, Illinois chapter of the National School Public Relations Association, Illinois Education Association, Illinois Audio Visual Association, Illinois Federation of Teachers, Illinois Association of Superintendents of Educational Service Regions, Illinois Principals Association and the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

President Nixon has recommended that the $85 million for Title I be cut, and that Titles II, III, V, VII and VIII be eliminated.

There is no Title IV program. Title VI, which provides $1.8 million to Illinois each year, apparently will not be much affected. That section provides for screening and therapy for "slow incidence" handicapped at 16 regional clinics.

All Schools, State Offices Closed Monday

All Quad-City public and parochial schools and all state offices will be closed Monday in observance of Abraham Lincoln's Birthday.

Banks in the Quad-Cities will be open Monday, but will close Feb. 19 for George Washington's Birthday, with the exception of First National Bank in Madison which will be closed this Monday.

Savings and loan associations here all will close Feb. 19 rather than Monday.

State offices have solved the annual question of whether to observe Lincoln's or Washington's birthdays by closing both days.

Offices closed Feb. 12 and 19 include the State Employment Service, Work Incentive Program, Division of Unemployment Compensation, Driver's License Examining Station and the Venice Public Aid office.

The Madison County Courthouse in Edwardsville also will be closed both holidays.

The Granite City Hall will remain open both days under an agreement reached with city employees which traded the Feb. 12 holiday for the day after Thanksgiving. The city halls at Madison and Venice also will be open both Mondays.

The Press-Record will be open and will publish both holidays.

Springfield — State Supt. of Public Instruction Michael J. Bakalis is caught in a bipartisan squeeze play that threatens to throttle his governmental and political ambitions.

Homecoming Group Re-Elects Officers

All officers of the Venice Homecoming and Memorial Association were re-elected in an annual meeting held at the Venice Park district recreation center, with 28 members attending.

Officers re-elected are Al Pace, president; Sybil Robbs, vice-president; William "Mike" Ebersold, secretary, and Bernard Anderson, treasurer.

Two new directors, Joseph Meehan and Phillip Smith, were elected to the board of directors. Other directors re-elected included William K. Meehan, Dan McGee, John Pier, William Boerckel, Lorraine Daniels, Lloyd Patterson, Dr. John E. Lee, Creola Warnhoff, Al Hardin.

Ann Harden, Walter Simmons, Bess Snell, Larry Hartman, Bess Stoll, Thomas Maher, Donald Phillips, Harry Hadley, Duane Rankin, Ann Hartman, Claude Bilbrey, Diane Sierrilis, Charles Bilbrey, Thomas Williams and John Dickey.

The group honored Boerckel and Mrs. Stoll in observance of their 50th birthdays. A luncheon was served.

The group was informed that the association's building at 3rd Street and Broadway is now clear of debt. The building was acquired 20 years ago, according to Ebersold.

Turning the screws are the Republican-controlled state Senate and new Democratic Governor Dan Walker. Both appear determined to deny Bakalis his immediate goal of becoming Illinois' first appointive superintendent of schools.

The new Illinois Constitution abolished the school post as an elected one, and left the means of appointment up to the legislature.

It is generally accepted that a state board will be created to select the superintendent, but there are differences as to how the board itself should be chosen.

The School Problems Commission has proposed that the state board be appointed by the governor, but there is no firm indication right now that this will be the case.

Arguments also have been made for an elective board, with members to run in specified geographic districts.

Meanwhile, Senate Republicans are quietly preparing legislation that would establish such requirements for the appointive superintendent that Bakalis could not possibly qualify.

In the works is a provision that would specifically bar from appointment any person who has been elected to a statewide political office.

Read that as Mike Bakalis.

Although the Bakalis forces are expected to raise a hue and cry about politics, Republicans are ready to fire back that Bakalis has brought the situation on himself.

The GOP legislators are still bitter about the 1970 campaign in which Bakalis attacked Republican predecessor Ray Pate as a politician in education and urged his replacement with a professional educator, Bakalis himself.

After his own election, Bakalis has proved to be more active politically than Pate.

He has campaigned actively for the party ticket.

Bakalis consistently and strongly defends his political role. He has stirred considerable speculation that, like Pate, he eventually aspires to even higher office, perhaps the U. S. Senate or governorship.

It is this latter speculation that apparently caused him trouble with Gov. Walker.

Bakalis has confided to other Democrats that he has failed to receive a warm reception from the new governor.

He agonizes that — even if given the power to appoint the new school head or to name the members of a board to do the job — Walker apparently intends to give the nod to anyone but Bakalis.

Walker, whose undenied political ambitions are assumed to take in another bid for the governorship, perhaps a try at the Senate and eventually a bid for the White House itself, is not inclined to encourage any rival talent in the party.

Bakalis, for his part, is trying to drum up some party and public support on his own.

But the odds are heavy against him.

And if Bakalis is going to continue his political career, he will probably have to run the obstacle course of elections like everyone else.

We took the best features of a piggy bank and added one from a rich uncle.

We call it the Illini Federal Passbook Savings Account. It's everything you could want in a savings account. Maybe more.

It's like a piggy bank because you can put in as much money as you want—whenever you want. In fact, a dollar is all you need to open an account. You can take your money out whenever you want, too. If you need some of your savings suddenly, you don't have to break the bank or even give us notice. Just fill out a withdrawal slip.

And it's as safe as a piggy bank. Even safer. Your account is insured up to $20,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

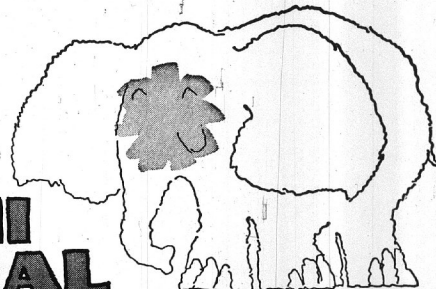

Okay, an Illini Passbook Account is like a piggy bank. But if that's all there were to it, you'd be just as well off with a piggy bank. It's the rich uncle that makes the difference. He feeds the piggy a little extra every time he visits. We feed your savings account every day.

Passbook accounts at Illini earn 5% interest per year. And we compound that interest daily. So you actually have a little more money tomorrow than you deposit today. And even your interest earns interest.

Everyone has had a piggy bank. But at Illini Federal, everyone has a rich uncle, too.

We'll never forget what it takes to get big. You.

'Shield' Bill Would Protect News, Not Libel

Capley News Service
Springfield — Legislation to erect a "shield" to protect the working reporter and his source has been introduced in the Illinois House. Chief sponsor of the proposed bill is Rep. John Hirschfeld, R-Champaign.

The act, which would become effective immediately on becoming law, would amend an existing act and extend complete protection to a reporter by prohibiting any court from compelling him to disclose the source of information obtained in the course of his employment.

The only exception would be in cases of libel or slander, where the reporter or news media was a defendant. In those cases, the privilege would not apply.

In his "state-of-the-state" address, Gov. Dan Walker included a section on media protection, urging passage of a law to protect media members and their sources.

"All of us in public life have our moments of displeasure with the media," the governor told a joint session of the General Assembly.

"But let us never forget that it is an indispensable fourth branch of government. For this reason, I find alarming the recent court-imposed limits on the rights of reporters."

Hirschfeld, who said his interest in the legislation was around by the jailing of a California reporter who refused a court order to name his source, added he was "delighted" with the support for shield legislation from the governor.

The Champaign representative said he hadn't expected the governor to mention the issue, and feels it indicates that the legislation is passed—it will receive the governor's approval.

"Maybe we'll even get some help in getting it passed," he said, adding he expects heavy opposition and heated debate on the proposal.

The act as filed by Hirschfeld would give the protective law a new title, "The Reporter's Privilege Act."

It would widely amend existing legislation, which he says "gives the reporter protection at the beginning and then proceeds to take it away, step by step."

The previous law, passed in 1971, granted reporters the same general immunity, except for libel and slander as his law, Hirschfeld said, but then added a list of exceptions and special circumstances when the protection wouldn't apply.

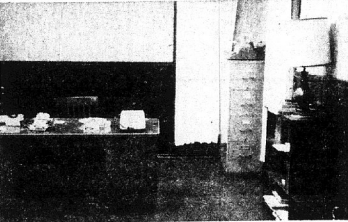

"What finally emasculates it," he said, "is a provision giving a judge the right to throw out protection entirely in any case he deemed had 'overriding public interest'... whatever that means."

A number of professional groups—including several chapters of Sigma Delta Chi, the national journalistic fraternity—have been pushing for such protection in Illinois and in other states.

The moves have become more widespread recently after several newsmen served time in jail rather than bend to court orders to reveal sources to whom they had promised anonymity.

Hirschfeld said he believes similar legislation may be filed in Illinois during the current session, and said he had no objection to working with others for the same goal.

"I'm not that interested on seeing my name on the bill," he said. "I just want to see a good bill adopted in the state."

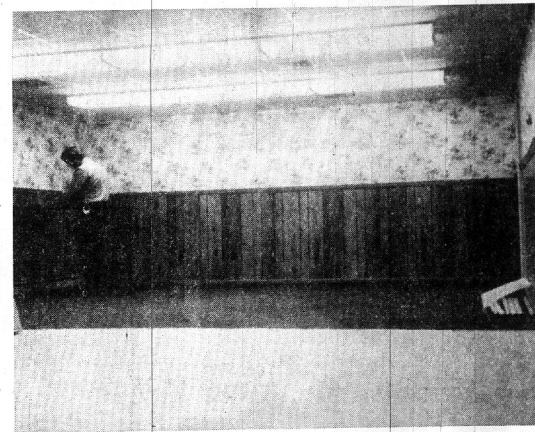

OFFICE OF THE CHIEF of the Pontoon Beach Police Department is finished with paneling, wallpaper and carpeting as are all other completed rooms in the building. Work on the new village hall will continue for several weeks until all offices and rooms have been made ready for occupancy.

COMFORTABLY FURNISHED police ready room at the Pontoon Beach Village Hall. The building now houses the police department and an office for the village board president. Other offices are being prepared for the village clerk, health inspector and other officials. A large meeting hall, which will be used for village board meetings, is nearly completed.

MEETING HALL of the new Pontoon Beach Village Hall is being remodelled and village officials are furnishing the room this week. The hall will be used for village board meetings starting this week. Chief of Police Rosewell Bennett Jr., left, adjusts the intercom from which music is piped throughout the building.

Return to List Social Security Number

Have you listed your social security number on your Illinois state tax return?

That's the first question Illinois taxpayers should ask themselves when filling out their state tax forms, the Illinois Department of Revenue advises.

Taxpayers should double check their social security number to make sure it is correct. Too often, a single set of transposed numbers adds several weeks to the processing time of a return.

The pre-addressed, peel-off labels on the IL-1040 booklet mailed early in January include name, address and social security number. If a label has an error, the taxpayer should make corrections on the label by printing clearly or with a typewriter.

If a social security number is omitted or is incorrect, the taxpayer's return will be sent back to him for correction. Under this policy, correct returns will receive priority processing. Returns will not be issued until forms received by the department are correct.

Any taxpayer who has not yet received an IL-1040 tax form should contact the Illinois Department of Revenue, c/o Income Tax Forms, P.O. Box 3345, Springfield, Ill. 62708.

3 Administrative Officials Named By Gov. Walker

Gov. Walker has announced three major appointments to his administration. They are: Mrs. Brenetta M. Howell, director, Governor's Office of Human Resources;

Squire J. Lance, assistant to the governor; and Hector E. Guzman, assistant to the governor in the Office of Human Resources.

Gov. Walker also announced that Joseph L. Block, Chicago industrialist, has been reappointed to another six-year term as a member of the Board of Higher Education.

Mrs. Vivian Hickey of Rockford, previously announced as a member of the Board of Higher Education, took her position on the board Thursday, succeeding Fred W. Heilmann, whose term expired last week.

Gov. Walker said:

"I have sought through the appointments of Mrs. Howell, Squire Lance and Hector Guzman, to give a strong and important voice to minority groups in the councils of the governor's office. This is partial fulfillment of a pledge I made during the course of my campaign for governor.

"There will be more such appointments in the future. Direct minority-group representation is essential to deal with the problems of minority communities.

"I view Mrs. Howell as a member of my cabinet. As director of the vital Office of Human Resources, Mrs. Howell will develop programs to help minority groups. In addition, she will administer federal grant programs.

"As associate director of the Chicago Economic Development corporation and as a person deeply involved in community activities I find Mrs. Howell highly qualified for this post.

"I have known and worked with Squire Lance for more than two years. He has successfully handled every assignment I have given him. He headed the transition task force for Human Resources and provided us with the information we needed to assume responsibility for the office.

"I am promoting Squire Lance to assistant to the governor and he will be my liaison to several code departments, including the Department of Transportation.

"I believe Mr. Lance will be the first black to serve as an assistant to the governor with such a major assignment.

"Mr. Guzman, an advisor to the Cook County Legal Aid Society, holds degrees from Ohio State University and the John Marshall Law School. He is a native-born Puerto Rican.

"Mr. Guzman will be an assistant to the governor with the Spanish-speaking community as his special area of responsibility.

"To the best of my knowledge, this is the highest, and certainly the most important position a Latino has been appointed to in Illinois state government.

"There are now three blacks holding major appointments: Mrs. Howell, Mr. Lance and Roland Burris, director of the Department of General Services.

"While women hardly qualify as a minority, they, too, have been underrepresented in state government. I now have appointed more women to key jobs than any of my predecessors.

"Mrs. Mary Lee Leahy is director of the Environmental Protection Agency. Dr. Joyce Lashof was named acting director of the Department of Public Health; and now I have named Mrs. Howell director of the Governor's Office of Human Resources.

"In addition, Beverly Addante is assistant director, Department of Personnel; Mrs. Nancy Philipp is assistant director, Department of Local Government Affairs; and Georgi Jones is the Governor's liaison for health and education."

Peace Circle Hears Plans

Peace Circle members of Netherland United Methodist Church heard a resume of projected programs of the United Methodist Women, planned for this year, presented by Mrs. P. M. Lucy Weaver, at a meeting in the home of Miss Mabel Stewart and Miss Katherine Van Order.

Mrs. Weaver also reported arrangements for the School of Missions series, scheduled to take place at the church on four consecutive Sundays, beginning Feb. 18. Peace Circle members will assist with the Feb. 25 program, she said.

Mrs. Emma Schoen, leader, opened the meeting and Mrs. Weaver offered a prayer. Mrs. Mary Louise Nibbel gave the lesson, using the topic "Queen of Sheba."

A special presentation, based on the story of Adam and Eve, will be featured at the church, Sunday, March 18 by members of the Omega Players troupe, it was announced.

Others present were Miss Anna Plato and Mrs. Katherine Ward, guests, and members Mesdames Ruth Johnston, Marvel Cooper, Pearl Albion and Miss Nelle Hart. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Clover.

Dinner Honors Service Couple

Mr. and Mrs. John Scott, 2908 E. 23rd St., entertained guests in their home during the week-end at a belated Christmas party and homecoming celebration, honoring their grand-daughter and husband, Specialist Five and Mrs. Russell (Kathy) Hamilton.

The serviceman recently was discharged from the Army at Fort Bliss, Tex., after a three-year enlistment, including one year spent in Vietnam. The couple is now residing at 2908 E. 23rd St.

Other guests at the party were Miss Karen Kibort, who is home for mid-term vacation from Illinois State University at Normal, David Kibort, of Ottawa, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Al Kibort, parents of Mrs. Hamilton and Miss Kibort, and Kenne and Keith Kibort.

ARCHITECT'S SKETCH OF NEW SIUE BUILDINGS. This is an architect's sketch of the two classroom buildings to be erected at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, immediately north of the existing Peck classroom building. General construction contracts are expected to be awarded this week. Combined successful bids on the project total $13,474,500.

State to Let Contracts For 2 SIUE Buildings

John Moore, executive director of the new Illinois Capital Development Board, has informed Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville officials that he expects the general contract on construction of two classroom buildings at Edwardsville to be awarded this week.

Moore said the CDB will re-bid the plumbing contract, and that he will be meeting with the apparent low bidder on the electrical contract to complete arrangements Friday. "We expect to have the general contract awarded before the week is out," Moore said. He indicated the plumbing rebidding would not delay the project.

Dr. John S. Rendleman, SIUE president, said the announcement "gives us hope that a most difficult classroom space crisis in nearing an end. No university in the state has had a more serious space problem, and no university has had to wait so long for relief."

A fall quarter, 1971, space survey by the Board of Higher Education, using measurements devised by the BHE staff and applied to all state universities, shows SIUE with a calculated full-time equivalent student capacity of 6,988 students. At that time the actual full-time equivalent enrollment was 10,874, creating an over capacity of 3,886 full-time equivalent students. The 1971 calculations excluded the new School of Dental Medicine.

Results of the 1972 state-wide space study are not complete, but SIUE had a full-time equivalent student count last fall of 9,752, or an over capacity of 2,766 based on the BHE criteria.

B. D. Hudgens, SIUE vice-president for business affairs, said the university "has been operating with substantially less than ideal space for several years. The space situation in all areas is so critical that these buildings will be fully utilized immediately on completion."

Current enrollment projections made by the university forecast a full-time equivalent enrollment of 12,042 in the fall quarter of 1977. This is 135 full-time equivalent students less than the rated capacity of existing buildings plus the space which will become available when the two buildings are completed. Construction will take about two years.

The Education and Business Divisions, which are expected to be among units occupying the buildings, rank first and second in the number of student majors enrolled in all disciplines at the university. Last fall 2,476 students registered as education majors and 1,449 registered as business majors. The two new buildings will provide adequate classroom space for these divisions and will free space now utilized by the two units for use by other academic departments which are also short of space.

A study in 1970 showed SIUE had the highest classroom space use rate of any senior institution.

The two buildings were first authorized and money was appropriated by the Illinois General Assembly in 1969, after plans were approved by the SIU Board of Trustees and the BHE. Subsequently Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie declared a moratorium on all state construction to help fight inflation. The ban was similar to one announced by President Richard M. Nixon on federal construction. Few exceptions to the ban were permitted.

In April, 1972, Gov. Ogilvie lifted the ban and established a task force to review all backlog projects. Over a period of several months the BHE had gradually lifted the priority list. This information was transmitted to the governor's task force. The task force reviewed the project plans and restudied the entire question of campus space needs.

On Aug. 31, 1972, Gov. Ogilvie, acting on the recommendation of his task force, released $14,266,300 for the two projects and on Nov. 30, specialty contracts on the buildings were opened. The general bids were opened a week later by the staff of the newly created Capital Development Board, the successor to the Illinois Building Authority.

The combined general and specialty bids on the projects were within two per cent of the architect's estimates, totaling $13,474,500.

The legislation establishing the CDB gives it sole power to enter into construction contracts involving state-financed campus buildings.

Apparent low bidders for the projects, based on bids opened in November and December, are:

General construction, J. J. Altman Co., East St. Louis, $8,189,910; plumbing, Fowler Co., Centralia, $488,000; heating and refrigeration, Fowler Co., $996,000; sprinklers, Paragon Mechanical Co., Kansas City, Mo., $114,894; ventilation, Quality Sheet Metal, Carbonale, $1,105,000; and electrical, McWilliams Electrical Co. Inc., Naperville, $1,433,000.

Recording Artist South Heading on Right Beam

By JUDY HUGG
Copy News Service
Have you ever had the feeling that you're sitting in your own shadow watching the world pass by? Well, that's where Capitol recordings artist Joe South found himself in 1968. He finally realized that he couldn't stand around just cutting records and writing songs for other people," he recalled. "No one was really listening to what I wanted to say. I had to go out and do my own thing — write the materials, sing the song, and produce the record."

Thus pointed in the right direction, South cut his first album called "Introspect" which proved to be his catapult into stardom. For the LP contained his hit song "Games People Play" and earned him two Grammys for Song of the Year and Best Contemporary Song. Since that time Joe has kept his public happy with such million sellers as "Walk a Mile in My Shoes," "Don't It Make You Want to Go Home," "Children," "Rose Garden," "These are Not My People," "I Knew You When," "Yo-Yo" and "Fuel Me."

"A Look Inside," his latest album for Capitol is perhaps his best effort yet, for South manages to merge all his styles, country, soul and pop into some very fine cuts. Besides the fact that he is an excellent musician, Joe's success lies mainly in his writing ability.

"I write to give people a chance to listen to my hostilities and happiness so that they can deal with their own," he said. "Music can do so much to bring people together. When I was in high school, I got a job as a country singer, but I had no idea then how much one could communicate with the world."

"The songs of that time were things without any involvement, without much meaning. Today Holt said tickets for the dinner are $10, with $5 tax deductible. It will be held at 7 p.m. at Augustine's Restaurant, Belleville. Dr. John Rendleman, president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, will be master of ceremonies.

The McKendree Appreciation Dinner is both a way for the community to say thanks to the college for the job it is doing to serve this region, and for the 14-year-old college, the oldest in Illinois, to say thanks to the community for the support so necessary to its continued success, Holt said.

Tickets are available by writing the Development Office, McKendree College, Lebanon, Ill. 62254.

Rob Hardy of radio station KMOX will return as the principal speaker at the McKendree College Appreciation Dinner Feb. 17, according to B. J. Holt, chairman of the dinner and executive vice-president of Edgemont Bank & Trust Co.

Hardy was the speaker at this year's appreciation dinner. Speakers since have included Art Linkletter, nationally known entertainer, and the Rev. Paul C. Reinert, president of St. Louis University.

Hardy until recently was news director of KMOX. This month he was promoted to director of public affairs and special events programming. He continues to handle segments of KMOX-Radio's At Your Service programming, which developed while he was news director.

Hardy's topic will be the credibility of the news media. A Belleville resident, Hardy, 42, was a radio instructor at Scott Air Force Base during World War II, and began his commercial radio career with WIBW in Belleville. Highlights of his most recent activities include a tour of the Soviet Union with a group of governors. He is a private pilot, a boatman and is active in Aynad Shira.

A new symphony by Shostakovich is already a major musical event. The advent of his latest work, "The Fourth," added interest because it is the first since the 10th in 1953 that the Soviet master has written a non-programmatic symphony. To some this will mean that he has not felt compelled to write a propaganda type work.

In this symphony the composer utilizes a standard orchestra with the addition of some of the lesser used elements in the percussion section. The symphony is written in a standard classical style of four movements. As played by the composer's son, Maksim, the work runs just over 41 minutes.

Since this is a premier recording, no performance comparison is possible. However, even without the availability of the score, the Maksim reading comes across as entirely sympathetic to the composer's intention. And this is what we well could expect in this father and son collaboration.

The Moscow Radio and Television Orchestra responds admirably in all respects and present a progression through the work that ends up as an entirely satisfactory whole. The symphony calls for extensive solo playing by violin, flute, cello, trombone and contrabass. All soloists perform capably.

At this early stage in its existence, it seems sufficient to consider it as a thing alone. And considering it as such, it is a delightful, largely delicate, creation that evokes a broad emotional response.

Dr. Strotheide Gets National Membership

Dr. Emil L. Strotheide, 3412 Nameoki Road, has been selected for membership in the American Chiropractic Association, it was announced by the organization's national headquarters at Des Moines, Iowa.

As a member of the ACA, Dr. Strotheide joins thousands of fellow doctors of chiropractic, all dedicated to improving general health care, the announcement said.

Dr. Strotheide is a 1964 graduate of the Logan College of Chiropractic at St. Louis, he and his wife, Constance, live at 1 Shirwin Drive.

Membership dues support major programs of chiropractic education and research, and provide materials for use in public education and vocational guidance.

The announcement of Dr. Strotheide's selection was made by Dr. John W. Schwertel, president of the American Chiropractic Association.

Franklin W. Collins is a former 4-year official of the Granite City Army Installation who died Feb. 1 at St. Francis Hospital, La-Crosse, Wis. Funeral services were conducted on Monday in Grand Rapids, Mich., with burial in Woodlawn Cemetery there.

Rutledge Lists 1972 Income at $15,861

Paul E. Rutledge, Granite City treasurer and a candidate for re-election in the April 3 city election, reported Tuesday his income and tax payment for the 1972 year.

Rutledge said his income for the past year included $11,400 as his salary as city treasurer; $800 as treasurer of the Police and Firemen's Pension Fund; $3,473 in retirement income, and $114 in interest, for a total of $15,861.39.

The official listed his 1972 tax payment at $2,368.37.

The interdisciplinary program includes six academic areas: accounting, business administration, economics, finance, management science and marketing. Four junior year business administration courses are offered each quarter and three optional courses are offered on a continuing basis in other special areas.

Sue Bax of Mitchell likes the way the course work is established in terms of class scheduling.

"We can do our research on a project independently using the data bank in the lab, and we can come together to discuss problems we're working on," she said. "We also have 30 minutes a week set aside for counseling if we want it."

"As instructors in the program, we want to play a service role to the students because we are here because of the students, not the other way around."

Students worked on the problem of how the McDonald's restaurant could increase its sales. Before the students could approach the problem they had to know what the problem was, decide what questions they wanted to answer, and then know where to go in the data bank laboratory to find the answers.

Larry Land, who has completed his coursework in the program, says the knowledge he gained through the program's conceptual method has been invaluable.

"Traditionally, college does very little to teach you how to live in the world outside," Land said. "The lab has more far-reaching effects than just teaching. It shows you how to put up with and overcome daily frustrations of life."

Schroder says decision-making is one of the key words stressed in the program.

"One aspect of the program is to teach students a systematic approach to problem-solving, and from there to make a valid decision," Schroder said.

Contracts Approved, Johnson Road Widening To Begin; Maryville Road Estimate Is 1974

The extension of Maryville Road through Granite City and around the eastern edge of the city should be built during the construction season of 1974 if planning and funding follow normal procedure, Granite City Council members were told Monday night.

Edward Juneau of Sheppard, Morgan & Schwab, engineers for the Madison County Highway Department, in development of the Maryville Road project, said construction plans for the improvement will be completed within the next month.

of-way will require considerable time, he forecast.

Juneau attended the council session with Nelson Hagauer, chairman of the Madison County Board; William Webb, chairman of the County Board's Right-Of-Way Committee; and Carl Buehler, a member of the Right-Of-Way Committee, to outline the status of the Maryville Road project.

They were invited to discuss the program with council members after Mayor Donald Partney said the county was "delaying" the Maryville Road job and Webb, in turn, said the city was responsible for delay.

Mayor Partney was absent at Monday night's meeting.

Webb told the council that the county is "ready to go" with the highway job.

"There is nothing wrong. Maryville Road is our No. 1 priority job and it will go through," he said.

Walter Norn, serving as mayor pro-tem in Partney's absence, remarked that "the City Council has been criticized by the newspapers and I think we should straighten out the matter."

Juneau was given the floor and he told the aldermen:

"The plans are not done and will not be done until about March 1. There was a field check on the project in December."

"After the plans are finished it will take the state 30 to 60 days to check them and then we will need several weeks to revise the plans. Then they will go back to the state again."

"The right-of-way acquisition may be a problem. We may need a number of appraisals."

"If all goes well and according to normal procedure, the job should start during the construction season of 1974."

Juneau added that "this job has gone very smoothly. There has been no delay anywhere."

The Maryville Road improvement is a joint city-county project for which Granite City has appropriated $350,000 in motor fuel tax funds, and the county has appropriated $1.5 million, also in MFT funds.

Norn remarked that the explanation "has cleared the air. We know more where we stand."
